Dedicated in Memory of Mrs. Lois Buck

Mrs. Buck was a devoted teacher and respected colleague at MHS. She gave over forty years of service to Middleboro Public Schools, and she shared her expertise in mathematics with a countless number of students. For her dedication to the teaching profession and to the students here at Middleboro High School the 1998 Timaron staff would like to dedicate this yearbook as a tribute to her memory.

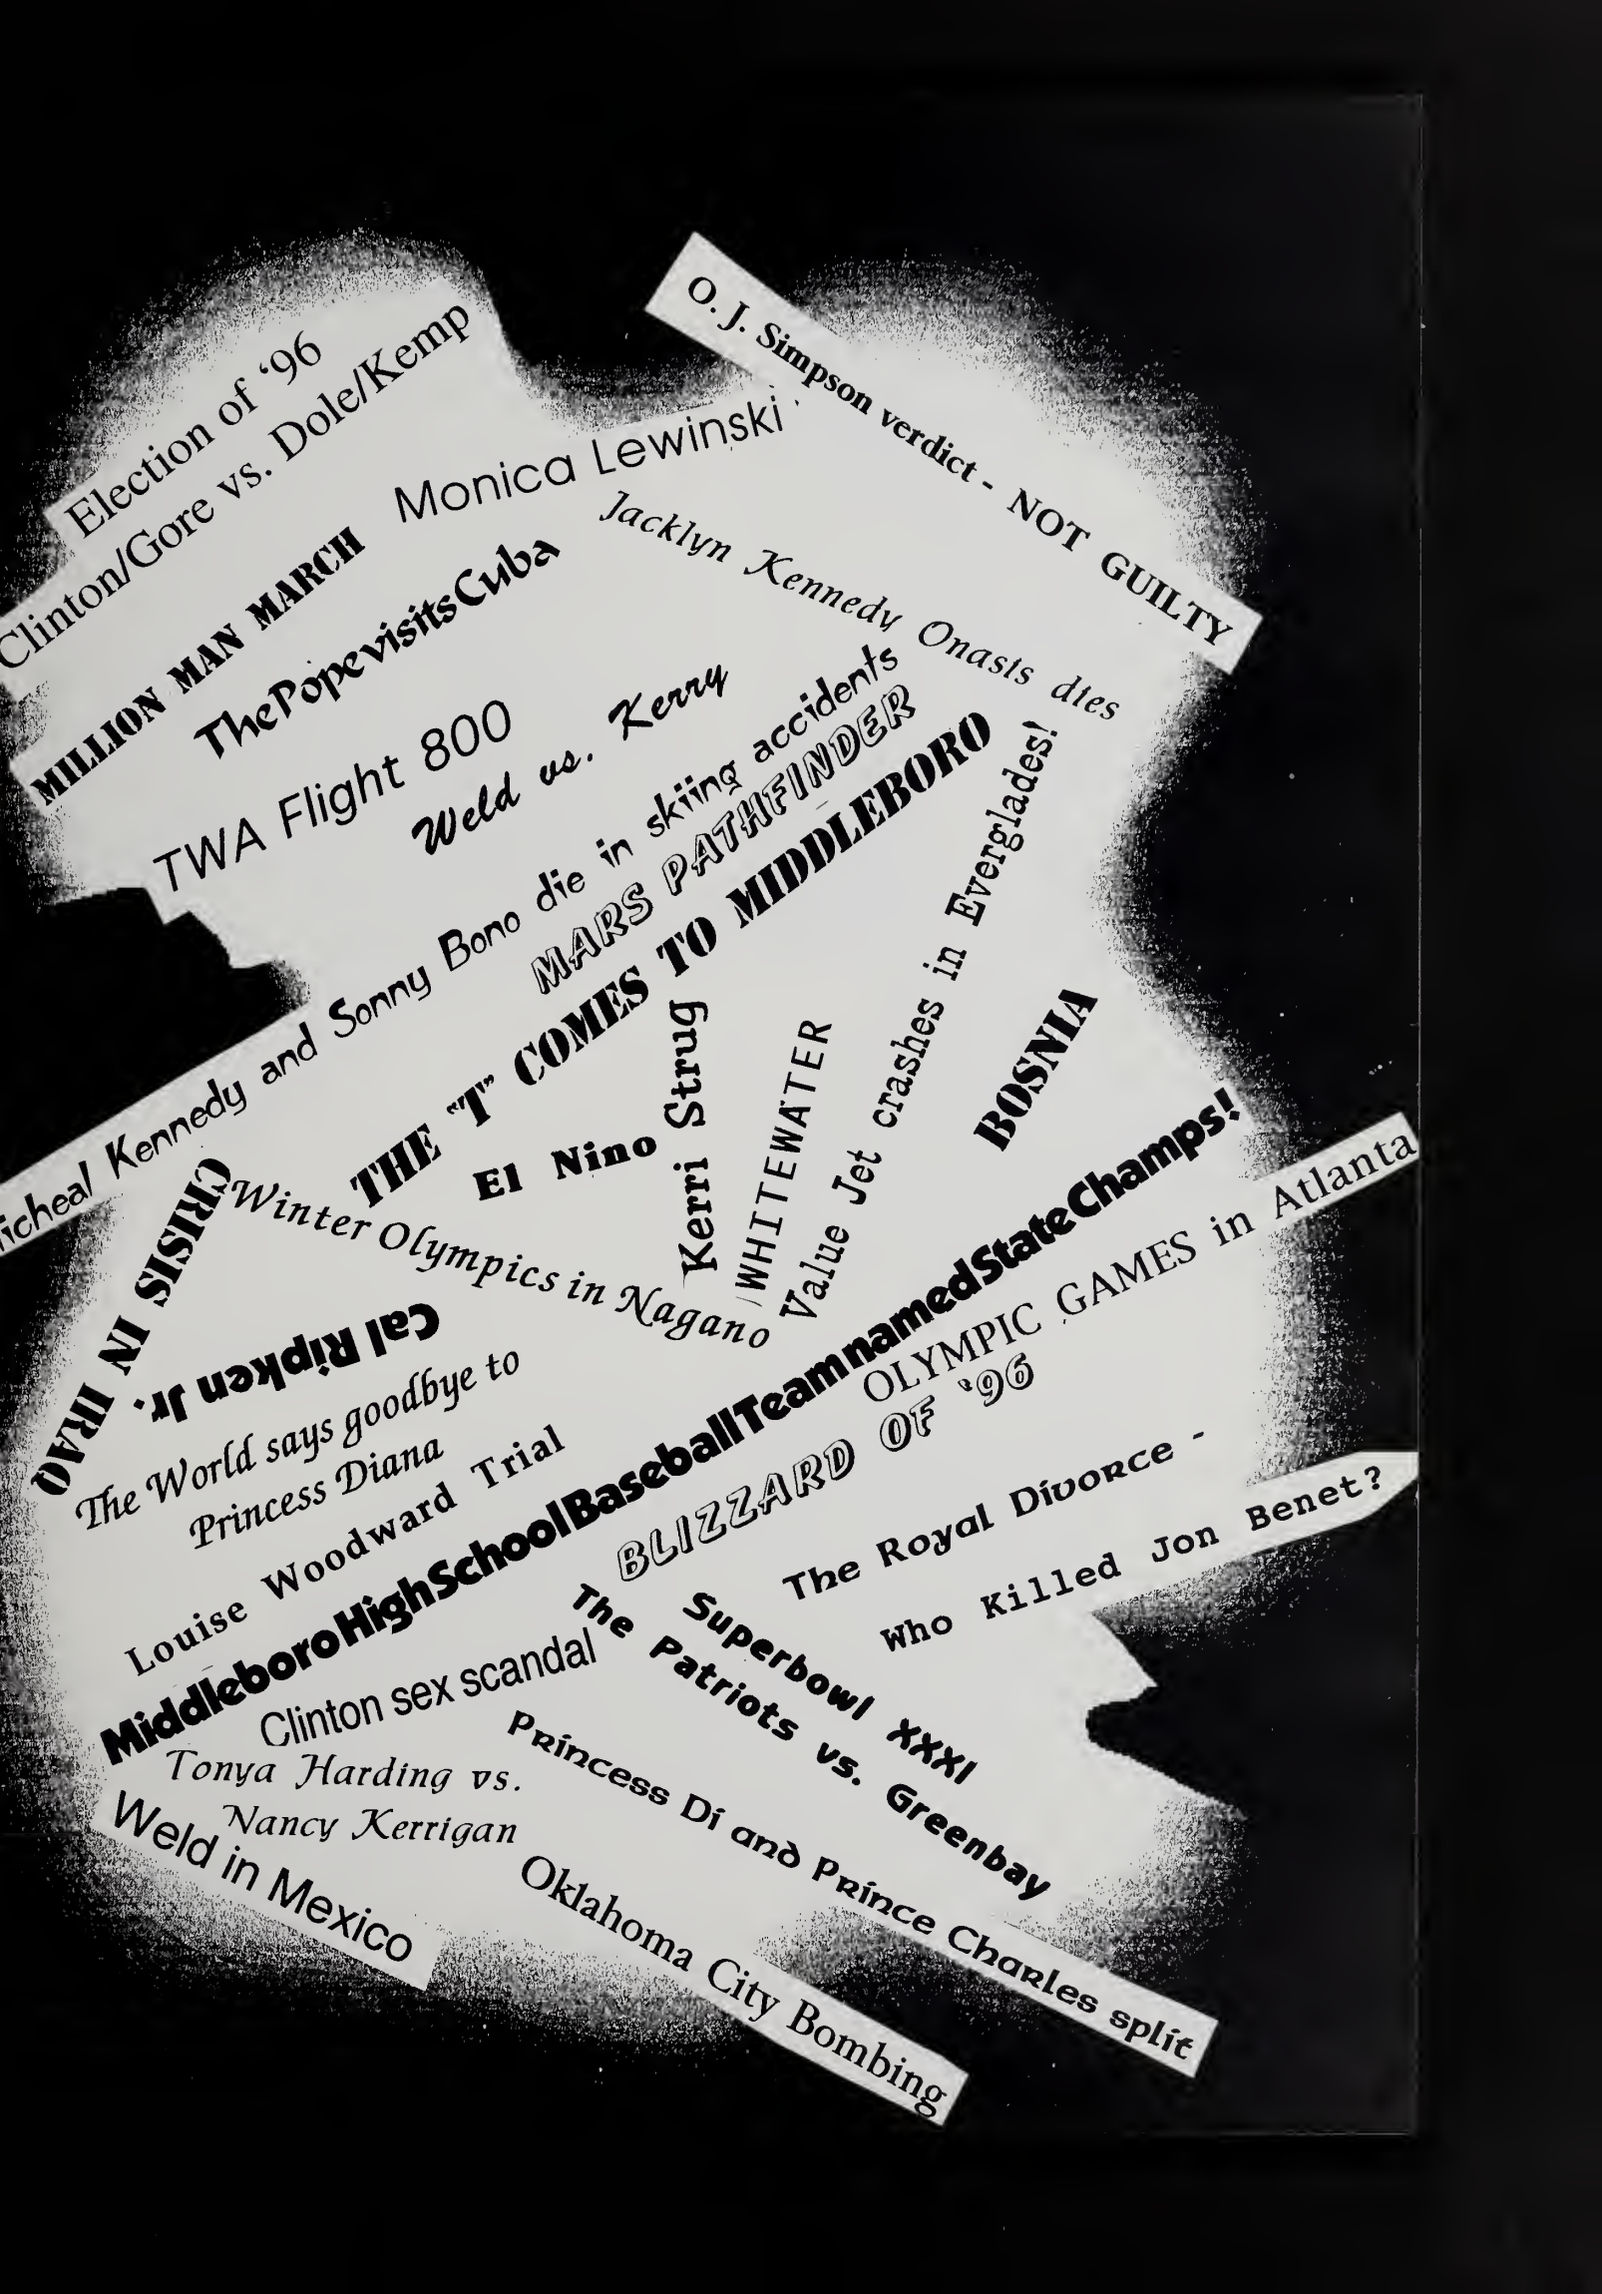
Many years from now when you look back at these past four years what is it that you'll remember? Chances are you'll recall the Senior Prom, Class Night, or possibly Senior Last Assembly. Who could forget Spirit Week, graduation, or those chilly Friday night football games? These are all memories that no one will forget, but what else went on during our four years at MHS? What was happening in the U.S. or in the world while we were sitting in the classroom?

Ages and ages hence forward will you remember who won the 1996 Presidential Election (Bill Clinton) or the little heroine at the 1995 Summer Olympics in Atlanta, GA (Kerri Strug)? Will you remember the Patriots 96-97 season or the Louise Woodward Trial or many of the things that were important to society and that influenced our lives? Years from now when we are making headlines of our own (Republican Rich Perry elected President in 2020) take a few moments and remember this:



Election of '96
Clinton/Gore vs. Dole/Kemp
O.J. Simpson verdict - NOT GUILTY
MILLION MAN MARCH
Monica Lewinski

Congratulations to the Class of 1998!

Graduation from high school is often a milestone people use as a reference to the past. As graduates of the Class of 1998, this occasion will carry the added significance of being on the threshold of the Millennium. Years from now, you may well recall this event with the statement, "I graduated high school before the turn of the century." Who among us today can comprehend what stimulus might prompt you to respond in that manner.

It may be the result of the latest mode of high speed travel. It may be a new Convenience which dramatically raises the quality of life to unimaginable heights. It, also, may be as simple as the passage of time which now proceeds the sage advice you pass on to others of a younger generation. Regardless of the impetus, you will remember your graduation date with a special sense of reverence. As part of these recollections, hopefully, you will have fond memories of the Middleborough High School and the years spent in the local schools. For those of us who remain behind as you move on, we will search the future so as to revel in the small part we may have played in the contributions made to society by the Class of 1998.

My best wishes go with all of you! May you achieve all your goals and may you reap the many rewards life can bring!

Michael S. Ippolito, Ed.D.
Superintendent of Schools

To The Senior Class:

The Class of 1998 will long be remembered for its academic excellence as well as its athletic, dramatic and musical talents. Your class was the first to feel the full effects of educational reform as it was implemented over your four years at the school and the first to enjoy much of the new equipment, AP curriculum and implementation of technology throughout the school. You have been the first senior class in Middleborough High School history to participate in a block schedule (86 minutes, remember!?) and the first senior class to initiate internships into the school day.

You have demonstrated flexibility and adaptability, two excellent traits that will carry you far in the future. Work cooperatively and in a spirit of collegiality. Smile a lot; it keeps people on their toes! Always try to be prepared and anticipate changing situations.

You have been well prepared to take your next step into the future. Keep venturing out! This world is a most exciting place in which to live, work and raise a family. The best to each of you.

Harvey F. Brooks,
Principal

A Senior's Day

"Thank you Mr. Brooks and good morning . . ."

I love school this much!!

Open wide!

Say Cheese!

Talk to the hand

I am so happy to be here!

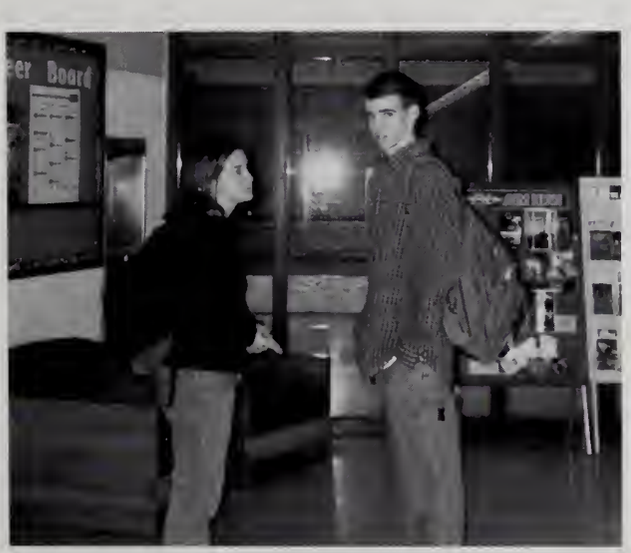
Is this class great, or what?!

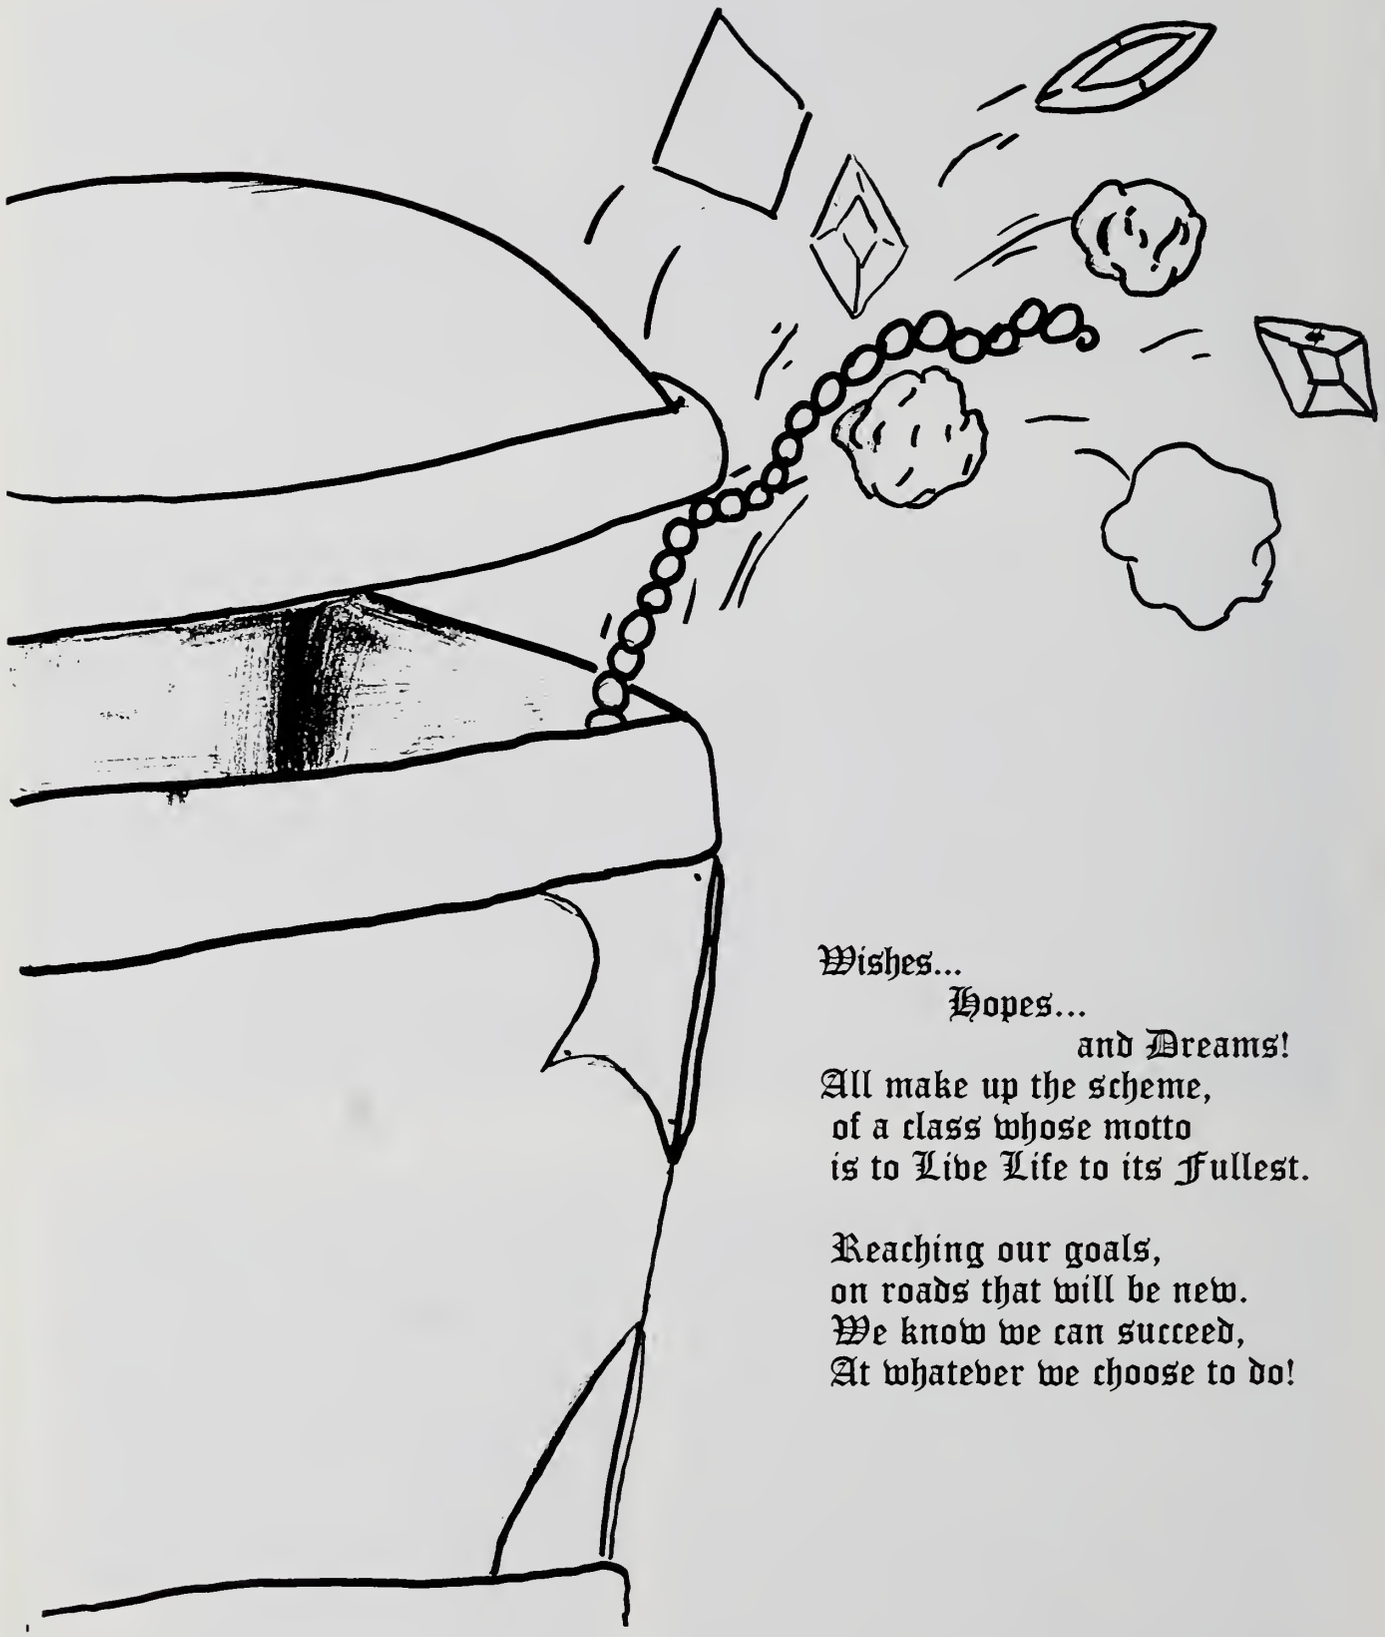
Smile for the camera

I think it just moved!



What will I be when I grow up?

Please don't let me get food poisoning!



Wishes...
Hopes... and Dreams!
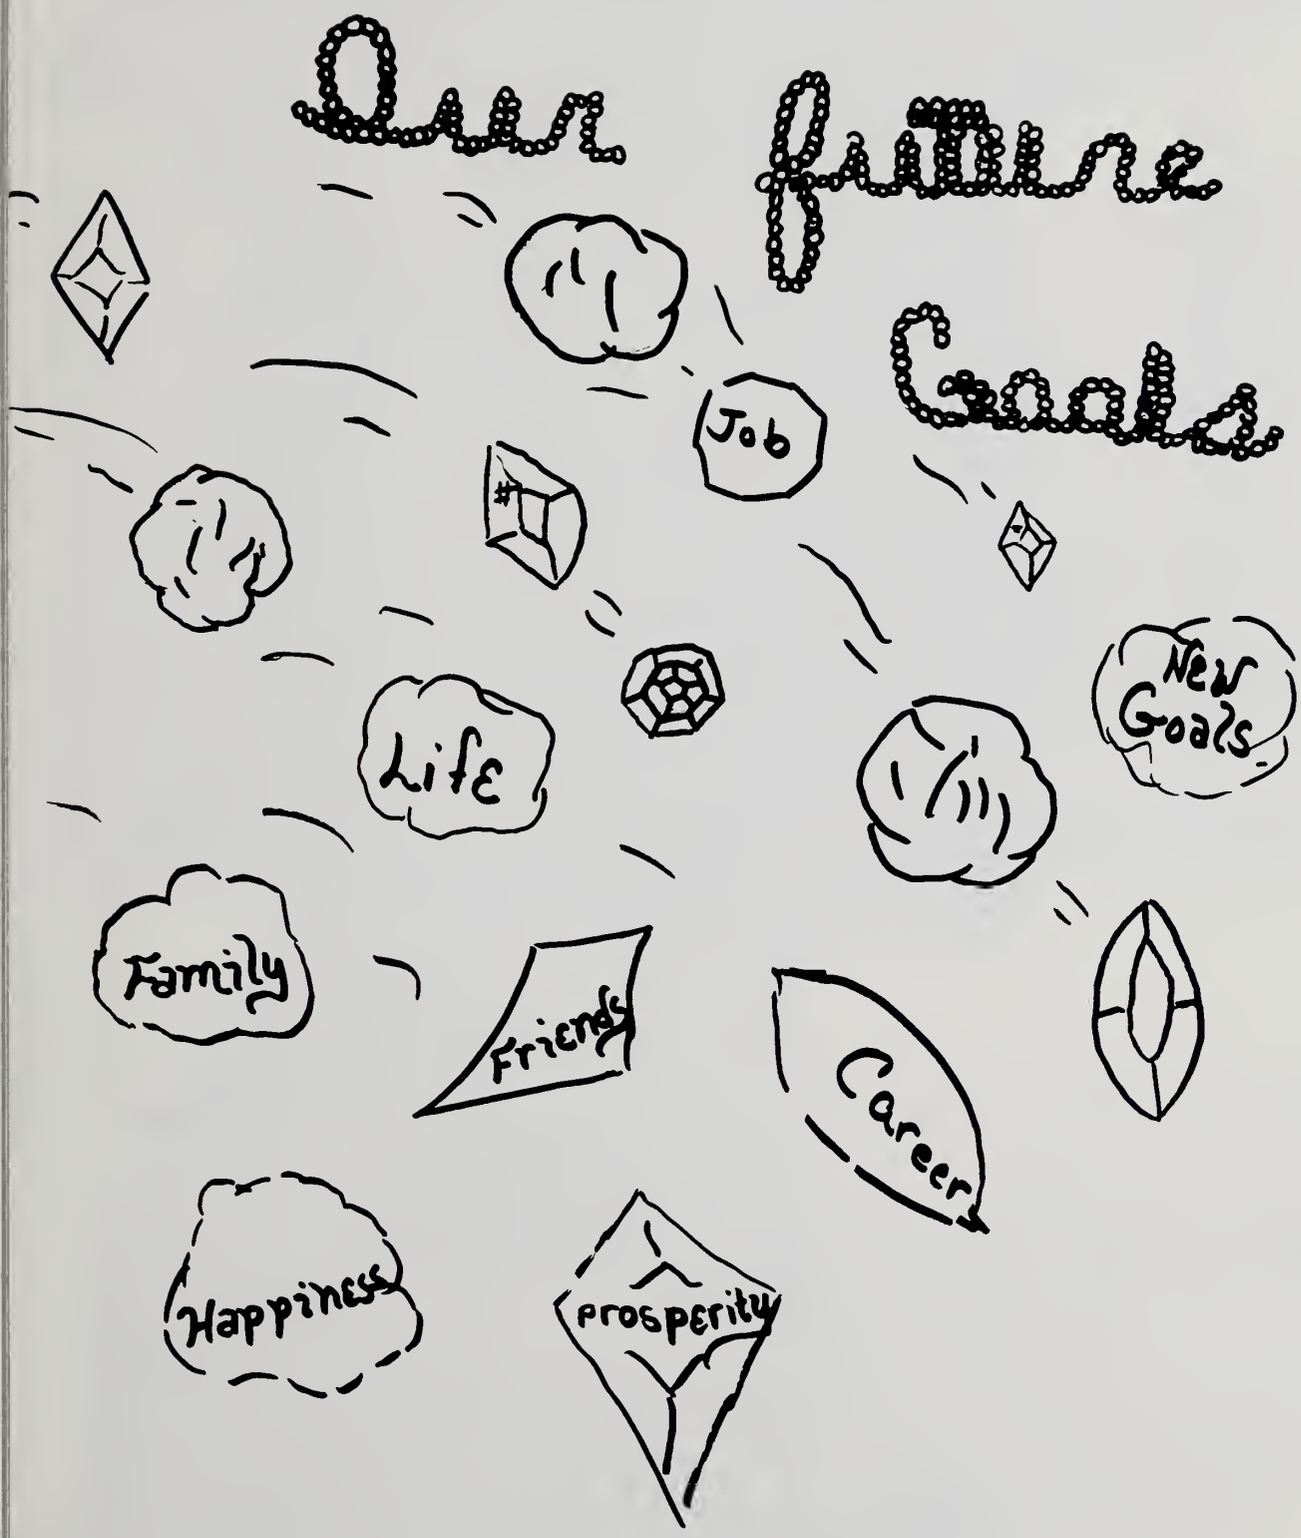
All make up the scheme,
of a class whose motto
is to Live Life to its Fullest.

Reaching our goals,
on roads that will be new.
We know we can succeed,
At whatever we choose to do!



Our future
Goals
Job
New Goals
Life
Family
Friends
Career
Happiness prosperity

Going out into the world,
Reaching the end of this road,
A great accomplishment achieved!
Deciding a future,
Understanding the implications,
And ready to take them on because,
The future is ours!
Investigating our options,
Obstacles will be overcome,
Now that destiny is in our own hands!

1998
Cranberry District Junior Miss

The 1998 Cranberry District Jr. Miss competition was held at Apponoquet High School on November 16. Five girls from Middleboro competed in this local contest for the title of "Junior Miss." For five weeks, these girls met with other local senior girls, had fun and practiced routines for the big show.

Finally it came. The curtains rose, and the competition began. Contestants were judged on their performances in the areas of Fitness, Creative and Performing Arts, Presence and Composure, a Panel Interview and in Scholastic Achievement. All the girls did a wonderful job. Ericka Jaye of Apponoquet High School was named 1998 Cranberry District Jr. Miss. Many girls from MHS also came home with awards. Teah Mazzoni was named First Runner up, and she was awarded in the catagories of Presence and Composure, Creative and Performing Arts and Fitness. Jenn Freitas received an award for Scholastic Achievement, and Amy Parker received the "Spirit of Jr. Miss" Award.

In Loving Memory of Adrienne K. Harris

You had a smile that lit up a room and warmed everyone's heart.
We knew that we could count on you.
That you would help us and see us through.

Now as we get set to graduate,
we really wish you were here to be a part Thank you for all the good memories we have to take with us.
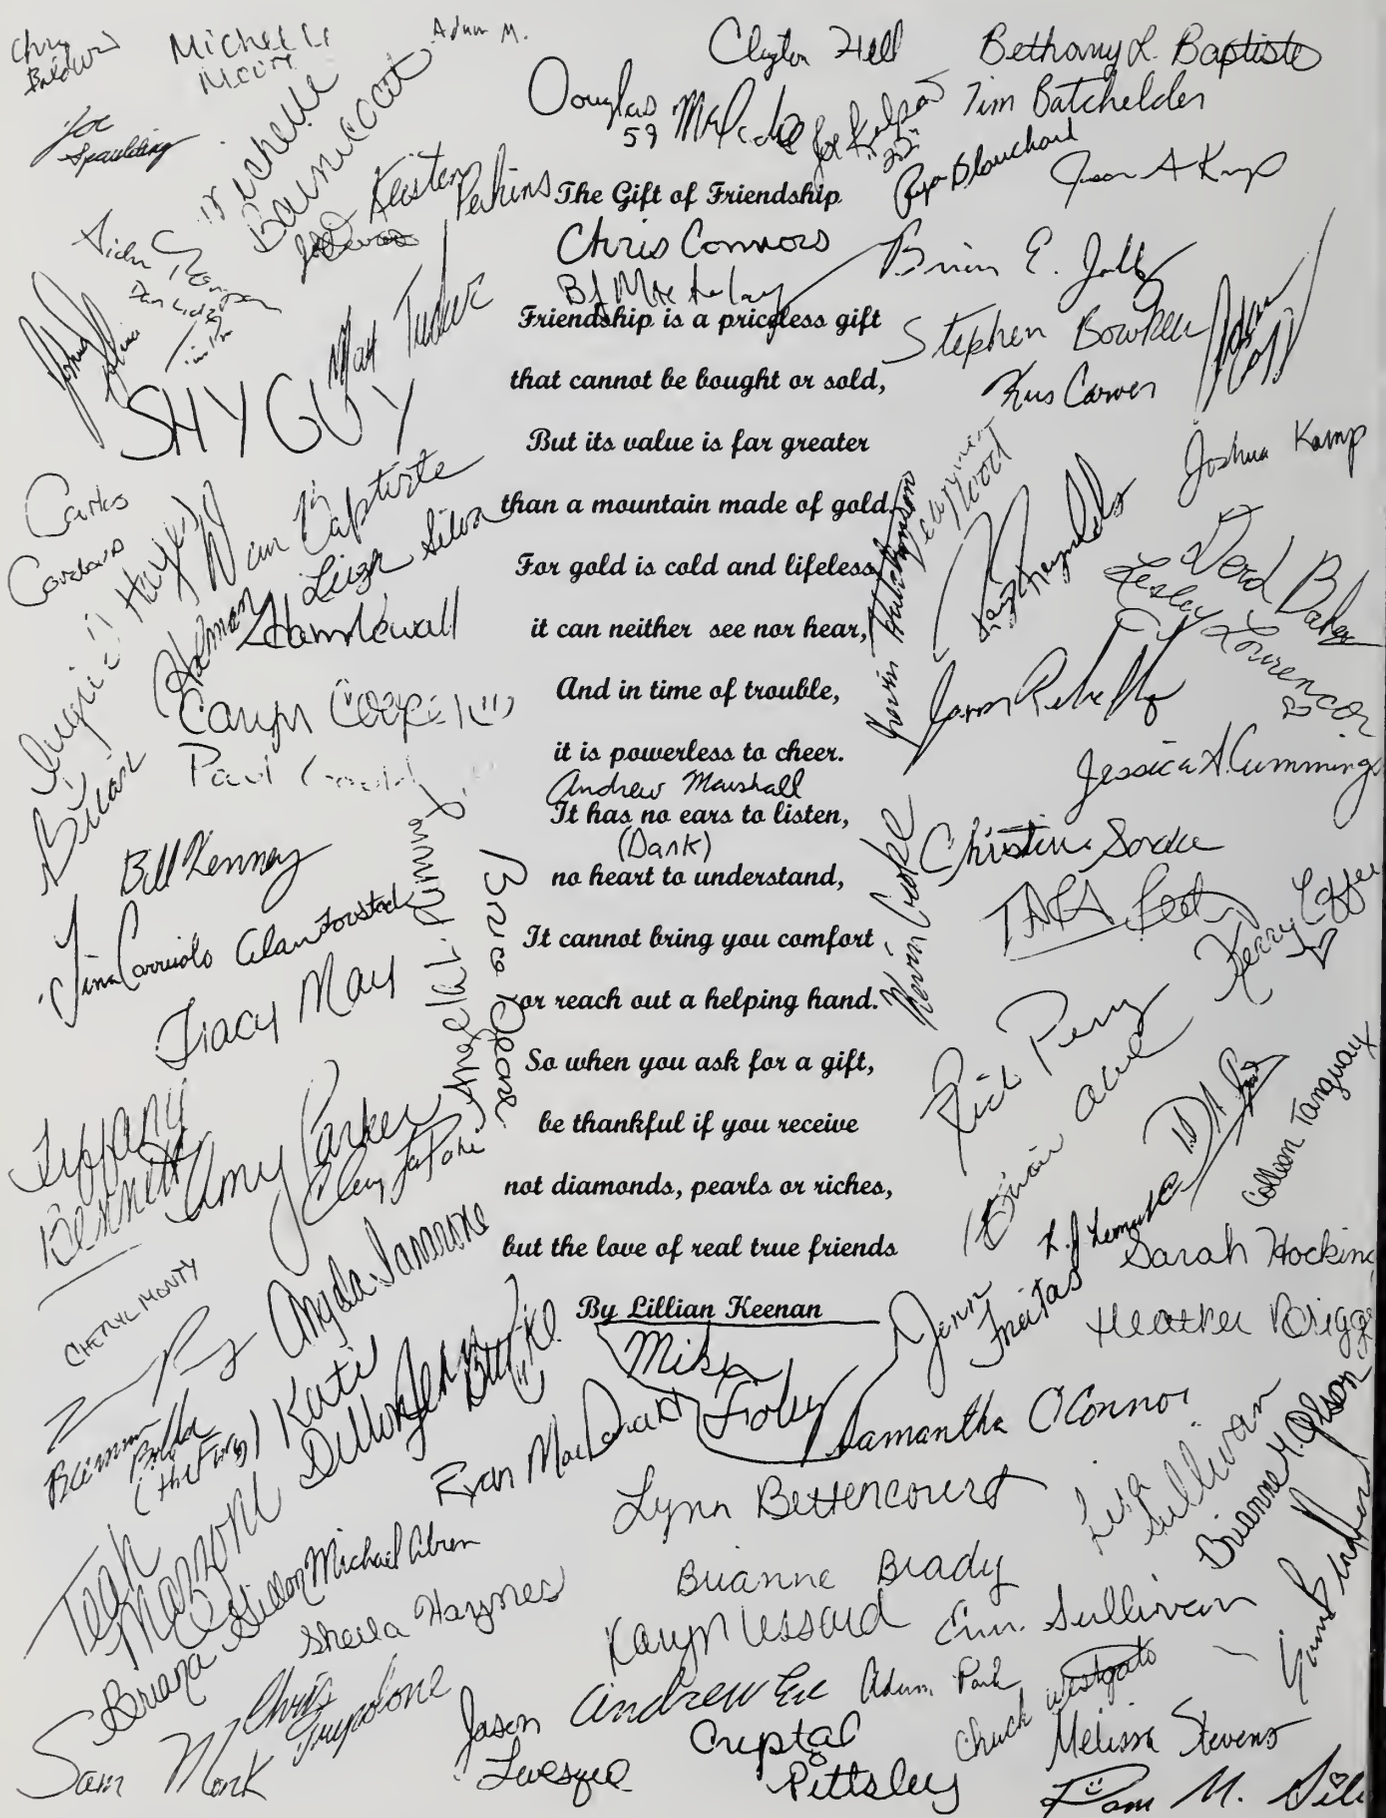
We are never really far apart.

In Memory of Kristina Hammer

Tomorrow & Always

I remember thinking . . .
I have so much to tell you.
But . . . I'm busy today.
There's so much going on.
It's okay
I'll just tell you tomorrow.
Isn't it funny how we just always assume
That we can wait for the next day.
Why is it that experience
Is always the best teacher of lessons?
How is it that tragedy
Can make us smarter and wiser?
I know that you have left a special gift . . .
— The realization that each moment is precious.
— The understanding of seizing the moment.
— The anticipation of the future.
But now I also know
That if tomorrow never comes,
I have a treasure chest of memories.
They're in my heart and mind.
— I hear your voice.
— I see your smile.
— I know my friend walks by my side.
So now I know tomorrow might not come, but
You are with me always!



The Gift of Friendship

Friendship is a priceless gift that cannot be bought or sold,
But its value is far greater than a mountain made of gold.
For gold is cold and lifeless,
it can neither see nor hear,
And in time of trouble,
it is powerless to cheer.
It has no ears to listen,
no heart to understand,
It cannot bring you comfort,
or reach out a helping hand.
So when you ask for a gift, be thankful if you receive
not diamonds, pearls or riches, but the love of real true friends

JAPAN

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Hi! I'm Kosuke. I feel there are many differences between America and Japan. The big difference is school. The teachers and students are so close and friendly. In Japan the teachers don't even know their own students very often. At M.H.S. there is much homework to do every day. In Japan we seldom have homework. In the American class, there are many discussions. Japanese schools seldom have discussions, only teachers speaking. I think it is very important to have discussions. I think it is good for thinking.

In many ways I like America better than Japan. I like American food. Everything is cheaper than Japan. In America I like the open spaces where I can enjoy nature.

Matthew David Tucker
"Matt"

Matt waited until the day that his write-up was due. When asked what he would say, he replied, "I haven't a clue." He thought that he would write his loves and likes and such. But in order to get it right he'd have to think too much. Of course he loves his family and his friends as well, and of course he'd mention God or else he'd go to hell. Next would be activities, to which everyone would clap. But this here be a yearbook and not a college app.

REFLECTIONS

I look in the clear still pool,
And all I see.....
Is that reflection of the outer me.

I continue to look deeply within,
for the resurgence of memories,
When life seemed about to begin.

I remember those days without a care.
The innocence of childhood,
And learning to share.

Then came the day when I was old enough for school,
Wanting to know everything--
Wanting to please and follow the rule.

Next the great whirlwind swirled,
Adolescence they called it
And I was watching a new me unfurl.

Now my recent time of exploring
... I can drive!
... I love my friends!
... Isn't independence great?
... I have to work this weekend.
... What will I do when high school ends?
Oh the train is leaving....I hear it roaring.

I'm still looking in the clear, still pool,
And you know what I see...
A future of being the best I can be!

Ahhh . . . junior year! Finally, a time to be recognized as an upperclassman, and enjoy the rewards such as receiving your license and attending the prom! Of course you can't forget the business of getting out of first period to go to the college fairs! Speaking of college — junior year also pertains to major stress. PSAT's and SAT's are the beginning of the college search. What kind of profession will you enter? What sort of life will you live? Will you receive Scholarships for college? Add this extra stress to the every day homework and after school jobs, and you come out with the reality of being a junior!!!

SOPHOMORES

Sophomore year. What can we say? It's better than freshman year, that's for sure. We're not the butt of all jokes, we know the school better and we're more involved. Sophomore year is great; we have already adjusted to a new school environment and we are not worried about SAT's and colleges . . . yet. We'll save that for next year.

Freshmen

Being a Freshman at Middleboro High is pretty cool. At first we were all sort of nervous, and excited, but after a while, we got used to it. Now, we sort of enjoy it. I think most freshmen find high school making us feel more independent, and older. We have more freedom to speak, move, and we also meet lots of older friends who are really great. As Freshmen, we may be smaller and less mature, but hey, give us a chance. You were a Freshman once! — By Angie Langley

Boys' Basketball

I really enjoyed being a part of this years basketball team. The league was very competitive this year but I feel that we did well and held our own. Our record was much improved over last years, and we have a lot of promising young players returning next year. Coach Green was very encouraged by the tremendous improvement in the team this year and we hope to qualify for the tournament next season.

The team gets psyched up before the start of a game.

Mac Harrison looks to pass the ball to a teammate under the hoop.

The Sachems team jumps up to pull down a rebound.

Nate Horseman shoots over an opponent.

This year there were many changes in the Lady Sachems coaching staff. The varsity and the freshman teams both got new coaches. The only coach left from the previous season was JV coach T. J. Lavin. The new Varsity coach is Cheryl Sevey, a past alumnus of Stonehill College, where she played four successful seasons. The Freshman coach is Dean Duquette, who has coached CYO basketball for many years.

On Varsity, there were only two seniors this year. Jessie Cummings, and Jackie Barnicoat were chosen as captains, and they have done a great job leading the JV and Varsity through a fun and successful season. Jessie is a great shooter and Jackie plays an unbelieveable defense.

Overall the Lady Sachems always have a lot of fun, even then they had to run "trips." The Varsity's record this year was better than last year's, so this shows an improvement in the Lady's Sachem's skill level already. Maybe next year the teams will do even better.

Melinda works hard and excels in school and every sport, especially field hockey.

BELOW: The MHS defense helps Lindsay defend the goal.

I am a link . . . I am an important part of this team. Together we are a chain . . . We will not be broken . . . We will work . . . We will fight . . . Together we will win . . . Go! Fight! Win! Score! Do it to it wicked well!

Although the Lady Sachems Field Hockey Team didn't have a winning record this season, they never failed to give their 100% effort. As their cheer above shows, the Field Hockey Team is one of the most united teams in the school. Under the leadership of Captains Leighanne Silva and Sarah Hocking, the "chix with stixs" had a fun and memorable season.

For the 1997 season, Senior Jen Freitas was named an Atlantic Coast League All-Star and Most Valuable Player. Amy Sherman and Bethany Baptiste received the Unsung Hero Award, and Nikki Broadbent was named the most improved player of the season.

FOOTBALL

A victory at the Thanksgiving Day game made this a good season for the football team. We all enjoyed cheering them on at games and at the pep rally. We applaud them for their effort this year, and wish them good luck in next year's season.

Anyone who has ever seen a soccer game knows the effort each player makes to be the best. This year boy's soccer team is no exception. They put all their energy into each game and by doing so they proved that when you apply yourself, you can do anything.

Girls' Soccer

The 1997 soccer season started out like any other, a group of hard working, determined girls giving it everything they had. As the season wore on, as a team we faced obstacles that would not be easy to overcome: too many injuries, our coach quitting, and our team divided into little cliques.

One thing we worked so hard on this year was team unity. We struggled and fought through everything that was thrown at us, which may not reflect on our record, but definitely reflects on our pride. It's not how many wins or losses I'll remember when I look back on the '97 season, but how in the end we came together and fought as a team.

One cannot help noticing the changes that take place in the average Sachem swimmer throughout the season. Their hair turns a shade lighter, their skin begins to dry out, and they can smell chlorine 24 hours a day. The changes that a swimmer can see in themselves, is a greater work ethic, an increase in school pride, and the development of lifelong friendships.

As a swimmer steps on the starting blocks in their tiny bathing suits, a fan can sense that the whole team is behind him. When the swimmer finishes his last lap, and gasps for air, a sense of satisfaction comes over the whole team, for they know when a good race has been swum. As the season continues, the team becomes closer and more sucessful, as each swimmer strives not only to achieve their personal best times, but to gain points for the team.

Swimming is a sport that is not only challenging physically, but mentally. It's not everyone who can stay sane while their arm hair falls out due to the excess of chlorine in the Burkland Pool. The boys swim team this year put all this behind them, and fought to achieve a .500 record. Many swimmers represented MHS at the League, Sectional, and State meets this year. When one looks at the boys swim team they see a team that is small in numbers, but large in spirit.

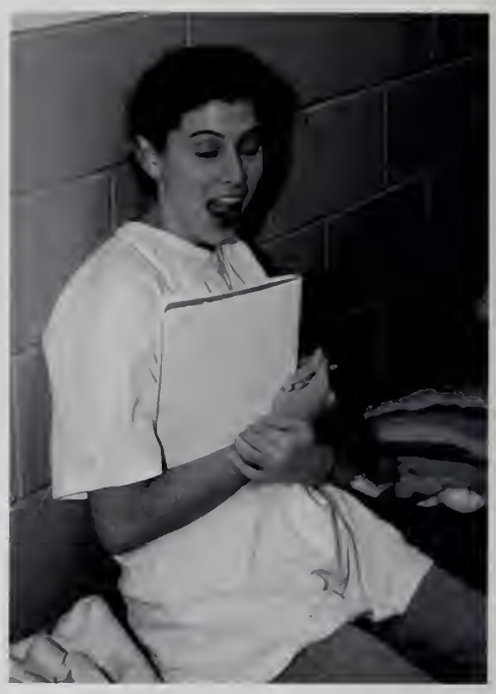
Girls Swimming

The girls swim team has had a very productive season. We placed fifth in our division, with one of the smallest teams. At the Pilgrim Conference, we were awarded with the Sportsmanship Award and the Academic Excellence Award, which we have received for the fourth year in a row.

We will be losing two seniors and co-captains, Corey Rodriguez and Karyn Lessard. Corey was a huge asset for us in the butterfly events and Karyn was an important backstroker, getting several best times.

This season we were able to qualify for Sectionals with our medley relay team. The relay team of Corey Rodriguez (butterfly), Teresa Cheromcha (backstroke), Erin Cummings (freestyle), and Theresa Pawlendzio (breaststroke), performed very well and got their personal best as a relay team. Corey also made Sectionals in the 50 free and placed well in that.

Overall, the season was fun and competitive. We all grew very close and can count on each other for anything. Next year promises to be one of the best, even though we won't have our two seniors swimming with us.



Brianne Brady, team scorekeeper, manages to look tired and surprised at the same time.

WINTER

Girls

Many days this winter were wet, windy and nasty. With the harsh New England weather in full effect, most people enjoyed the warmth and comfort of their own homes . . . that is everyone but the MHS Winter Track Team. This team could be found running every day no matter what the weather conditions. Whether there was sun, rain, snow, wind, or sleet they could be found running. Nothing could stop them. When the track was covered in ice and snow they didn't wait for it to clear. They found another place to run. At the same time, other members of the team practiced the field events including the shot put, the high jump, and the hurdles. While some people may look at track and field as a boring and difficult sport, members of the track team seem to enjoy it . . . Why else would they be out running in the cold and harsh weather?

The Wrestling Team

Brian Mitchell

Alex Carbone

Capt. L-R Ryan Blanchard, Jay Levesque, Back Coach Zigafrelli

The wrestling team had its ups and downs this year, mostly ups, though. With many strong performances from everyone, the freshmen and sophomores learned, while the juniors and seniors dominated.

With only three seniors (Ryan Blanchard, Jason Levesque, Clayton LaPalme) leading the way this year, these absences will be missed. But leading the way next year are three very strong and skillful juniors (Alex Carbone, Kris Dees, and Dave Goyette), who we wish all the luck to in their up and coming year ahead of them.

But let's not forget the sophomores and freshmen. With the leadership of Barry Zigafrelli, the team was prepared for a tough season ahead of them.

Being a Winner

It's just a game,
[illegible] they say . . .
[illegible]t oh! It's so much more.
[illegible]'s about being part of the team
[illegible]egardless of the score.

Some of us will stand out,
For athletic grace and skill.
The rest of us — the supporting cast —
Gel the determination and will.

In the end . . .
No matter what our role has been
Being all true "sports"
Means we've already won.

ACADEMICS

History class, fun? Well, these freshmen in Mrs. Miller's class think so!

The cheerleaders take a break, while the crowd enjoys the game.

ACADEMICS

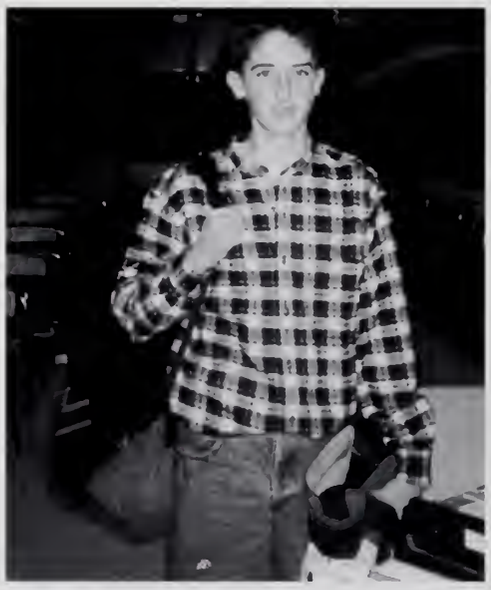
Mrs. Cleverly's working hard to get those report cards ready. I'd give her an A!

Mrs. Bettencourt is pumped and ready to work.

The guidance office is as busy as ever.

A familiar sight at MHS — Mr. Brooks and Mrs. Nash in the midst of a discussion.

ACADEMICS



Hey! How about I stay after for extra credit.

You can't believe what's in here!

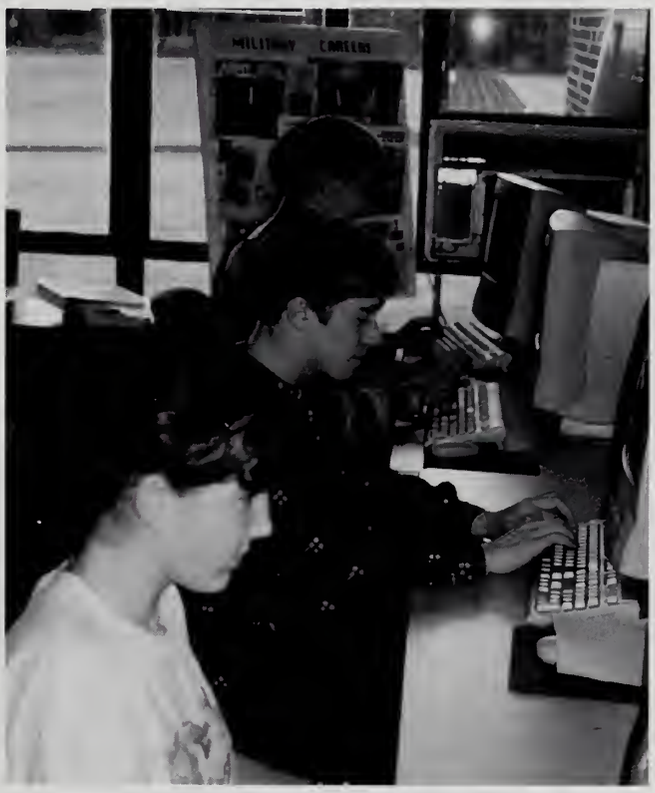
Look! I can see myself in the screen!

ACADEMICS

Sarah Powers cooks up a storm!



These juniors are hard at work in the Career Center.

Wouldn't you like one of these at home?!

Matt Darling poses with his table — a result of lots of hard work!

In Memory of John Pilalis

As I wander through our field It's barren.
All our days spent painting have passed

As I walk down our street
It's silent.
All the times we laughed are gone

As I sit and remember your eyes
I cry.
Their beauty will never been seen

As I sit in school
I wonder.
Why did this happen to you?

As I sit in your bedroom
It's quiet.
No more music or voices are heard

As I go to bed every night
I whisper.
I love you with all my heart

And as I sit at your grave
I remember.
We won't always be apart.

SPIRIT WEEK

Pride that stands out in a crowd.

Flashing back to the 60's with their winning looks are: Dianne Gisetto, John Pilalas, Jessica Krebs, and Jennifer Freitas.

Only a real Sachem warrior can keep the spirit chant going.

Arriving to the welcome of their waiting public are Spirit Queen, Jessica Krebs, and Spirit King, John Pilalas.

Timaron

What do the words cropper, pica and quad pack all have in common? They are all things that the yearbook staff has become very familiar with by February. By that time, the yearbook is in its final stages of production and is getting ready to be sent out to the publishing company.

Many people don't realize the work that the staff puts into the yearbook. First, they have to lay out each and every page on a rough draft. They pick the best pictures to get the point across, whether it is for a sport, club, or a special event. They have to think of the clever little sayings to go under the pictures of you and your friends in the hallway. The staff lays out the page on the quad pack, types out the copy and numbers every picture. Through all the stress of meeting deadlines and selling advertisements to local businesses, the staff still manages to put together a book that you will enjoy looking at for years to come. They capture the most memorable moments of the school year so that you will remember them always.

I hope that when you look through this yearbook you will think of all of the work that goes into it and maybe appreciate it a little more. A yearbook is in some ways like your history book. It gives the history of past years and the people who made it most memorable.

Amanda and Jen try to decide which picture to choose for their page.

New advisor to the staff, Mrs. Rivet laughs with one of the staff members.

Amanda works on laying out her quad pack.

Special thanks to Mrs. Holloway for her continued support.

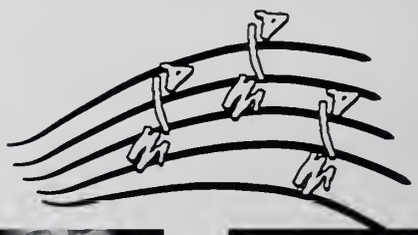
MHS Music



The MHS Music Department has for a long time worked to produce talented musicians. This year the MHS band was honored to receive and accept an invitation from Governor Paul Celluci and his family to attend the 1997 Tree Lighting Ceremony held at the State House. On December 4, members of the band traveled to Boston and performed at this wonderful event. Many members of the band also traveled to Amherst, Massachusetts where they participated in the 1997 UMass Band Day. At this event MHS students along with hundreds of students from all acorss the state worked to produce a wonderful halftime show at the October 4, UMass football game.

Cindy Baldwin, Dawn Savery, Lisa Sardinia, Amy Veiga, Alyse Russell and Cory Cameron were among members attending the Tree Lighting Ceremony in Boston.

Majorettes

Providing your half time entertainment for 1997 are: Jackie Schell, Sandra Spears, Nikki Broadbent (back), Heather Travassos, Kerin Kenny, Sara Callahan, Gabby Chestnut (2nd row), and feature twirlers Jenn Freitas, Kerrie Logan, and Amy Parker (captain). Missing from the photo are: Kathy Leary, Jessica Johnson, and Krissy Coffin

Although the twirlers didn't have a chance to perform the half time show many times this year (due to the frequent rainy, windy and miserable weather) they worked hard to perfect their routines. To music of the Fifties, including "Johnny be Good," and "At the Hop," the band and the twirlers presented a wonderful show.

Heather Travassos performs the opening flag routine.

Andrew, You've always loved adventures, may life be the greatest of all. Love Mom and Dad, Lauren and Brittney.

Congratulations, Ray! You made it! We're proud of you. Love Mom, Norman, Amy and Norman, Jr.

Corey, your smile has brightened our lives. May God Bless your future. Love, Mama H. and Gretchen and Kaisa and Garrett.

Way to go, Auntie Bean! Love, Billy, Leanne & Amanda

Kathleen, We're so proud of you and sure that Mom would be, too. Love Dawn, Terrie and Bill

May flowers always line your path and sunshine light your days. Love Dad, Diane and Lesley.

Congratulations Paul! You've done an awesome job. Keep up the good work! We know you'll make a great "Mad Scientist."

You make us proud, Kris. Love Mom and Dad

Andrew, great work, you did it! All the Eve Family

Rick, we are very proud of you! Love Mom and Dad, Tom and Sean.

Dear Lindsy, life is what we make it, always has been, always will be. Grandma Moses. Best wishes for a spectacular dancing career. We are very proud of you and love you with all our hearts. All our love, Mom, Dad and Dan.

Congratulations Sissy!

(Jillian Russell)

I knew you could do it
